

FUNDRAISER FOR THE ARTS (MUSIC) (1 Position)

If you like the idea of fundraising, then this is one of the most wonderful charities to fundraise for! C.A.I. was borne with the vision to fundraise for other registered charities, by hiring musicians of every music genre to partake in weekly fundraising concerts raising funds for charities. At the same time this would create social events and a network of friends consisting of other charitable people, while giving something back to contributors. Why not support charities on an ongoing basis, rather than by quick fix contributions that are soon spent? C.A.I. wishes to use capital to purchase income property so as to have a renewable income, to help with hiring musicians. You must have experience in arts/music grants, and have put together projects from the start up until successful conclusion.

Previous experience in this field would be required. You need good social skills, the ability to sell the project to others, and to be motivated to find any worthwhile way you can to raise funds for the C.A.I. Project. You must be more interested to help charities on a permanent basis, rather than by way of one-off “quick-fixes” that don’t last. You must do what you can to help in the growth and development of C.A.I. You should have a love and appreciation for many types of music, whether Rock-n-Roll, Classical, Country Western, Jazz, Barbershop, Rhythm & Blues, Soul, Funk or Hillbilly music etc. This is an opportunity to become involved in a new and exciting project!

Please join our C.A.I. family! Trustees will assist as and where needed, and the fundraiser must be hardworking and self-motivated. The Fundraiser must complete application forms, build projects and liaise with Trustees for correct costings, and develop the project from start to finish. You would liaise with other charities too. This Fundraiser must have previous experience and know how to follow through on their own initiative with the necessity of only minimal assistance, as training cannot really be given in this field. We would like our Fundraiser to remain with C.A.I. on a permanent basis.

The Trustees will give you actual costs involved for each part of a project step by step, including what it will cost for each thing necessary for each stage of a project. You will be paid for your work at a negotiable rate, providing you could put together these ongoing projects. This is a fantastic opportunity to develop your own role within C.A.I. Each donation would also help to hire musicians who through such events could easily more than quadruple the money paid to C.A.I. for the charity of people’s choice. If you feel you have the necessary experience, skills, contacts and personality, then contact us now and get involved with one of the best charities in the world that helps other charities!
